CUPE 1978 to conduct worksite visits aimed at tackling workload

Watch for your CUPE representatives coming to a worksite near you!

The Workload Survey results are in! The survey revealed systemic workload issues for CUPE's Health Science Professionals, resulting in high rates of burnout. Thank-you for your thoughtful participation. We are currently compiling the results into a report which will be shared with you when ready.

In the meantime, we will be hosting a workload strategy session to release the preliminary results and hear your thoughts on how to best tackle the problem of ever-increasing workload. This session will be held on April 30 in the evening at the CUPE 1978 office in Victoria. If you'd like to attend, please RSVP to Carmen Toth (ctoth@cupe.ca) by April 16.

The worksite visits are a great opportunity for you to tell us more about the workload issues you are facing in your job classification, as well as to hear more about what we have planned for the strategy session, including how you can participate.

We will be visiting each worksite for an hour and setting up a meeting room with coffee and snacks for you to enjoy on your break. Hope to see you there!
